

Inkjet Temporary Tattoo Paper A4

Photo Paper NOW Temporary Inkjet Tattoo Paper consists of a directly printable film that has a skin-compatible adhesive layer at the back. The adhesive layer is protected by brown silicone paper.

After the tattoo has been printed directly onto the film and the silicone paper has been peeled off the back, you have a moisture proof tattoo that can be worn for up to a week or more with careful handling.

Printing

When you are setting up the layout and positioning the themes, make sure that you print the sheet on the matt rough surface (not the side with red squares – this is the backing paper to be peeled off before application).

- Insert a single sheet at a time and print in standard format. (Not mirror image)
- Allow the print to dry then cut out the tattoo closely along the edge.

How to apply to the skin

- Clean and thoroughly dry the area you wish to apply the tattoo, best to avoid areas with hair.
- Carefully peel the protective backing from the tattoo. Caution: The tattoo film is very thin and may tear easily. Avoid touching the adhesive surface.
- Stick the tattoo onto the area of clean dry skin.
- Please a sheet of blank paper over the tattoo and press down firmly.

Maintenance instructions

Protect the tattoo against mechanical wear or rubbing, water, soapsuds and skin cream. If your tattoo gets wet simply allow it to dry off. The special processing used prevents the ink from reaching the skin. To remove the tattoo simply use a cloth soaked in warm soapy water. Any remaining adhesive can be removed with skin milk or baby oil.

Special note

The tattoo paper has been tested dermatologically and found to be skin-compatible adhesive.

Not to be used by children under 6 years old or persons with sensitive skin. It should not be used on animals.

Do not use on injured, sensitive or hairy parts of skin.

This tattoo paper is only compatible with inkjet printers.
